Stassen Crowds Nixon

Nothing But Smiles Greet Ike on His Return from Panama But Tension Mounts

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower flew in from Panama today with a warm greeting for Vice President Nixon and the briefest of handshakes for Harold Stassen, his disarmament aide who announced a move last night to push Nixon off the Republican ticket.

Even before this tableau at the airport, Nixon's renomination had appeared to be nearly cemented.

Nixon was the first to greet Eisenhower as the smiling President stepped down from his private plane, Columbine III, at National Airport at 8 a.m.

Twenty feet down a receiving line which included diplomats, Republican Congress members and government officials, Stassen was waiting with a broad smile on his face.

Eisenhower shook hands with everybody and Stassen remarked as he put out his hand, "Good morning. Congratulations on a great job down there."

In the background rose a chant of "We like Ike" from a group of young Republicans.

Stassen had told a news conference yesterday that "in loyalty to President Eisenhower" he would work to replace Nixon on the GOP ticket this fall with Gov. Christian Herter of Massachusetts.

Stassen said private polls had shown that an Eisenhower-Herter ticket would be 6 per cent stronger than an Eisenhower-Nixon combination. The added strength, he said, might mean the difference between Republican and Democratic control of Congress.

Eisenhower chatted momentarily with Nixon before climbing into a limousine for the trip to the White House. Photographers demanded another handshake and the two complied, although Nixon protested mildly that "he's had enough of these, I think."

And, in a solicitous tone, Nixon said he had noted how Eisenhower had had a busy time in Panama, including several hours of listening to speeches at the meeting of American presidents. Nixon offered this word of advice to the President:

"Take a little time off now." Eisenhower appeared fully rested and alert as he alighted from his plane. The Columbine has sleeping accommodations and there was opportunity for nearly a full night's rest on the flight north.

Both Nixon and Stassen were on hand at the airport some minutes ahead of Eisenhower's landing and shook hands briefly after the welcoming ceremony for the President. Both were smiling but Nixon turned quickly and walked away.

Admits Killing Man To Destroy Records

CHICAGO (AP)—A teen-age youth, arrested for speeding and other traffic violations, admitted today, police said, he shot and killed a policeman in the suburban McCook police station yesterday.

The youth, Henry Westley, 71, said he fatally shot policeman Robert Giovannoni, 37, after taking the policeman's revolver from a desk and deciding to rob him and destroy records of his arrest. Police said the youth told them Giovannoni tried to resist, and "I shot him twice."

American Legion Holds Fish Fry For Funds

The American Legion Auxiliary and the American Legion in Sweet Springs met for a covered dish supper July 18 to discuss ways of providing funds for the hospital drive.

The group plans to have a fish supper at City Hall in the near future.

Hospitality Desired

Let's hope this wonderful weather continues for our guests Wednesday — the foreign exchange students stopping here overnight on their way back to New Zealand and Japan.

Partly cloudy to night and Wednesday with a few scattered showers likely this evening; low tonight near 67; high Wednesday in mid-80s.

The temperature was 63 at 7 a.m., 84 at 1 p.m., and 96 at 2 p.m. Low Monday night 60.

The temperature one year ago today, high 89, low 69, with 16 inch of rain; two years ago, high 89, low 68, with 21 inch of rain; and three years ago, high 96, low 70.

Stage at Lake of the Ozarks 54.3 steady.

Plans Legal Examination Of Ruling

Tests Circuit Court Ruling Invalidating Missouri Tax Order

ST. LOUIS (AP)—William B. Kline, St. Louis County counselor, says he plans a legal test of a circuit court ruling which invalidated a 1955 State Tax Commission order to increase real estate assessments in 26 counties.

Following a meeting of county officials yesterday, Kline said he will file shortly a motion for a new trial before Judge Noah Weinstein in the case in which the ruling was made.

If the motion is overruled, Kline said, this would pave the way for an appeal to the State Supreme Court. Kline said a study will be made to determine a basis for such an appeal.

James Robertson, chairman of the State Tax Commission, said another appeal of the ruling will be made by the commission.

The order directing assessments to be raised to 30 per cent of actual value in the 26 counties was at first vigorously opposed by St. Louis County officials.

But at the meeting county officials found themselves in the unusual position of agreeing with Judge Weinstein's ruling while pressing for legal action to upset it.

This is because the tax has been collected and they feel it would lead to much confusion if the order were invalidated.

Property taxes in the county this year probably will remain at their present level despite the ruling, said County Clerk Leo E. Sievers and Edgar G. Boedeker, chairman of the equalization board.

This year's assessments were made by County Assessor Phil G. Deuser independently of the 1955 order, he said.

This year the commission directed 63 more counties to raise their assessments to 30 per cent. Such action would bring all county assessment levels in Missouri up to at least 30 per cent of actual value, the commission said.

Thunderstorms Seen For Most of State

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Missouri is due for more moisture after some good soakers in many parts of the state.

Scattered showers and thunderstorms are forecast for the south this afternoon, the south and east central tonight and over southeast and extreme south Wednesday afternoon or evening. It will be a little warmer in the south and east this afternoon.

Rainfall in the past 24 hours included 2.76 at Joplin, 2.06 at St. Charles and 1.79 at Malden. Other reports: Springfield 1.60, Lexington 1.57, New Madrid 1.55, Cape Girardeau 1.52, West Plains 1.34, Rolla 1.21, Farmington .49, and St. Louis .15.

Gets Suspension; No Pay for Six Months

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Maj. Thomas J. Murphy, 60-year-old assistant chief of detectives for St. Louis police, is under suspension without pay for six months after being picked up on a traffic charge.

Police Board President I. A. Long said last night that Murphy, on the force 36 years, will be transferred after he returns to duty.

News Flashes

Hearing Is Cancelled

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional investigators today called off a hearing on the airliner collision over the Grand Canyon that cost 128 lives. An early meeting of the adjournment-minded House was the reason.

Showers Fall Over Nation's Eastern Half, Far Southwest

Showery weather was the outlook for most of the eastern half of the nation and in the Far Southwest today.

The principal wet belt yesterday extended from the mid-Mississippi Valley northeastward to the Ohio Valley and the lower Great Lakes region. Scattered showers fell in southern and central plains. Fair weather prevailed in the Northwest and in most of the Rockies.

Heaviest rainfall yesterday measured nearly 3 inches at Montgomery, Ala.; more than 2 inches at Springfield, Mo.; and 1½ inches at Burlington, Vt.

Escape Ends In Failure For Convict

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Another attempt to escape from grim Alcatraz prison ended early today like the others—in failure—when murderer Floyd Wilson was found crouched behind a rock barely 150 yards from the spot where he disappeared.

Wilson, serving a life term on the famed Rock, surrendered meekly 11½ hours after he slipped away while working on the prison dock.

His capture ended an intensive foot-by-foot search by FBI agents and prison guards of the small island in San Francisco Bay. Federal officials have called it escape-proof ever since the prison was set up 22 years ago.

Associate Warden J. B. Latimer said Wilson was found near the water's edge on the east end of the island.

"He had nothing to say," Latimer reported.

Guards immediately hustled Wilson inside the prison for questioning.

Wilson, sent to Alcatraz in 1952 for the murder of a Washington, D. C., grocery store manager, probably will be placed in isolation pending filing of escape charges, Latimer said.

The prisoner was captured as Coast Guard patrol boats circled the island, located about a mile offshore, playing searchlights on both the shore and the water.

Wilson disappeared from the Rock about 3:30 p.m. yesterday—about the time a water barge departed for the mainland.

Latimer said the convict "apparently slipped around or through a fence adjacent to the dock."

Catlett Shows Give Cut to Hospital Fund

The Catlett Greager Shows of Bonner Springs, Kan., will be in Sweet Springs from July 25-28. The Catletts have volunteered to give 15 per cent of their receipts to the Sweet Springs Hospital fund and $5 for each concession.

Merchants' Help Asked—

Chamber Coffee Session Hears Report on City Buses

The operation of the Sedalia Buses and the State Babe Ruth Tournament to be held here on August 3-5 were the subjects for discussion at a coffee and doughnut session held by the Chamber of Commerce at Hotel Bothwell Tuesday morning.

Virgil Herrick, vice president of the Sedalia Babe Ruth League, told the group about the coming tournament and asked the cooperation of the merchants in promoting it.

Approximately 800 people are expected to be in Sedalia when the six teams compete for the state title and a chance to go to the regional contest to be held in McPherson, Kan. Admission to the games will be 50 cents.

Harry Goldberg, one of the owners of the Sedalia Transit Co., was

Bottle Incident Related

Marine Testifies Sergeant Had Vodka But Doesn't Know If Instructor Drank It

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP)—A crisp young Marine said today he saw S. Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon "raise a bottle to his lips" just before he led the disciplinary march of six recruits to their deaths.

However, Pvt. David H. McPherson of Chatham, N. J., said he was unable to say that McKeon actually had taken a drink.

McKeon is facing a general court-martial for leading 74 members of Platoon 71 into a marsh last April. Six drowned.

Just prior to McPherson's appearance the defense sought to call 108 ex-Marines as witnesses—and earned a mild reprimand.

In his testimony the day's first witness said he was called to McKeon's room about 8 p.m., April 8. The march began about 8:30 p.m.

Sgt. McKeon was standing out in the hallway," McPherson said. "He followed me in. He asked me, 'What is wrong with you McPherson? Why aren't you doing something to help the platoon become better disciplined?'"

"He slapped me once or twice with the back of his hand. Then he told me to sit down."

McPherson said they then quietly discussed the platoon.

"I told him I felt the platoon had it too easy right from the beginning. He told me he planned to take the platoon into the swamps and asked if I thought that would help discipline the platoon. I told him in my opinion it would."

As the discussion continued, McPherson said, McKeon walked across the room and picked up a bottle. The witness continued:

"He brought the bottle over. I saw him raise the bottle to his lips. It was a clear bottle with a label marked vodka. He asked, 'Would you like some? I said I was up to him, it didn't matter. He said, well I couldn't have any anyway. He asked me if I liked vodka. I told him I did.'"

"What did he do with the bottle?" McPherson was asked.

"I'm not sure, sir. I guess the last time I remember seeing the bottle it was in his hand."

Before McPherson's appearance, defense attorney Emile Zola Berman was told by the court to see if he couldn't iron out his witness problem with the prosecutor, Maj. Charles B. Sevier of Jacksonville, Ill.

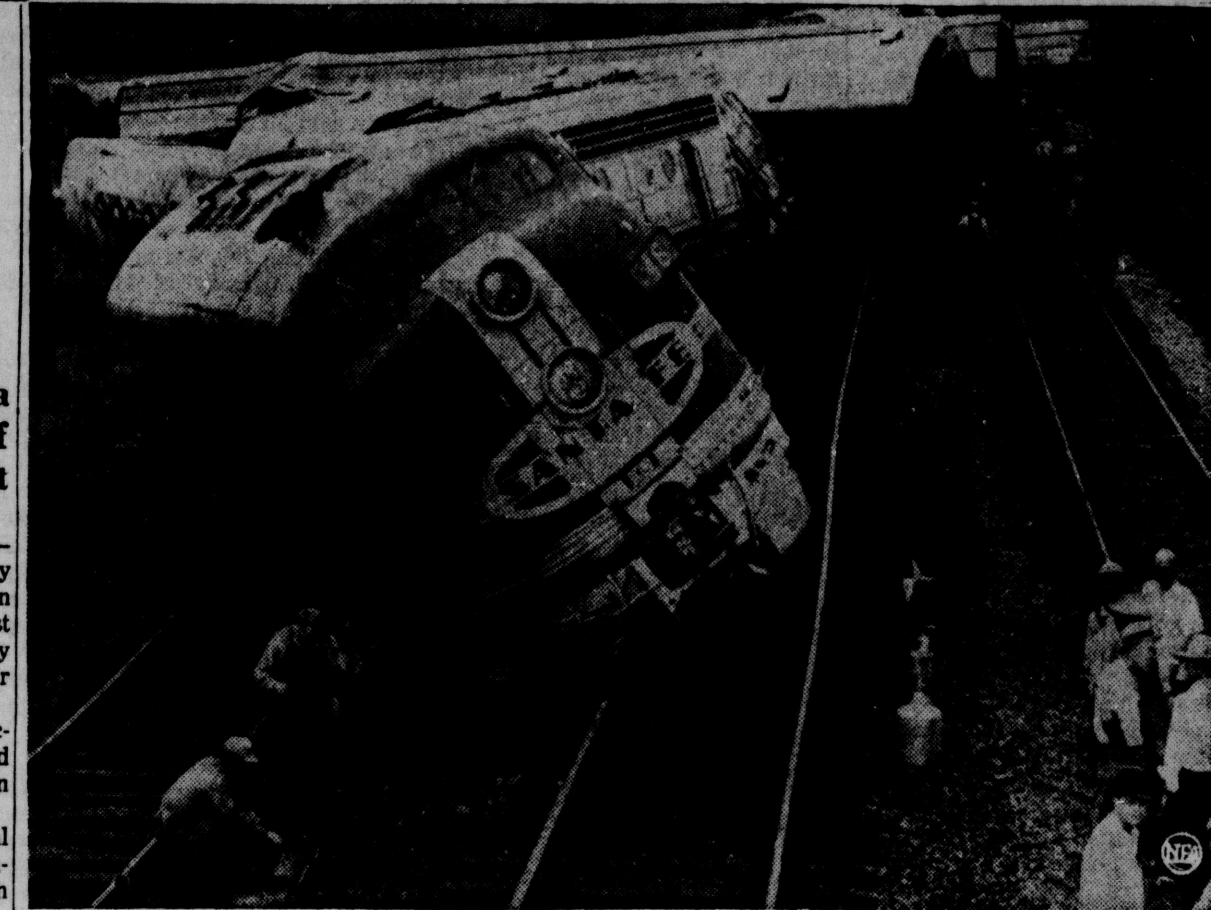

The Navy law officer, Capt. Irving N. Klein of New York City who functions as a judge, asked Berman if he had complied with the technical provisions of the law in asking the government to call such a large number.

American Royal Gets Under Way With Mail Being Sent to Entries

Activities in connection with the 1956 American Royal Livestock Show were begun last week with the mailing of more than 4,000 premium lists to prospective exhibitors in twenty states. The 58th annual event will be held in Kansas City Oct. 20-28.

Jay B. Dillingham, vice-president in charge of the Livestock Show, said that the mailing also included county agents, breed associations, instructors in vocational agricultural institutions and former exhibitors.

The 1955 American Royal attracted 1,063 exhibitors from 19 states, who showed 4,088 head of championship livestock. The show this year will offer more than $70,000 in trophies, premiums and awards to livestock exhibitors, Dillingham added.

North Carolina, Florida—Two States Seek to Keep Negroes From Classrooms

Two Southern state legislatures today sought means to keep Negroes from sharing classrooms with whites while in Congress supporters of a measure to extend Negro voting power in the South fought what seemed to be a losing battle for its passage at this session.

Legislatures of North Carolina and Florida moved into special sessions summoned for the express purpose of circumventing the Supreme Court's ruling that racial segregation in public schools must end.

In Washington, Senate advocates of a House-approved civil rights measure fought what appeared to be a losing battle to bring the bill to a vote before Congress adjourns.

While the civil rights bill has many facets, its threat to white domination of Southern political processes is perhaps the principal source of the virtually unanimous opposition from Southern members of Congress. Its supporters are hopeful that if passed it would enable Negroes to participate in Southern elections in strength at least approaching their ratio in the population.

In North Carolina, Gov. Luther Hodges roundly criticized the Supreme Court but said "I definitely do not propose that this state defy" the court. Instead he asked enactment of a two-phase program which would authorize tuition grants from public funds for children of parents who refuse to send their children to integrated schools and thus enable them to attend "private" schools. The other major provision would permit local school units to close schools if conditions became "intolerable."

If enacted, the governor's proposals, in the form of constitutional amendments, would be voted on by the people Sept. 8.

In Florida, Gov. Leroy Collins proposed a program keyed to granting local school boards authority to assign pupils on the basis of intellectual ability and scholastic proficiency with the boards to be the arbiters of these matters.

Pickets, Nonstrikers Clash in Auto Strike

BIRMINGHAM, England (AP)—Pickets and nonstrikers clashed today at the Austin car works, the main factory involved in a strike against the giant British Motor Corp.

Mounted police forced their way through reinforced picket lines to clear a path for trucks.

Scuffles also were reported at some of the 12 other plants in Birmingham, Oxford, Coventry, and in Llanelli, South Wales. No serious injuries were reported.

The management claimed 23,000 workmen defied union orders to day and walked past jeering pickets to their jobs—a thousand more than reported for work yesterday on the first day of the strike. The firm, makers of Austin, Morris, Riley and MG cars, employ about 43,000 men on the day shift and 48,000 in all.

Union leaders called the walkout to protest the company's dismissal of 6,000 men in an economy move after a slump in car sales.

Party Fight Moves Into House Today

Wants Launching Of Speedup Program To Build Atomic Plants

WASHINGTON (AP)—A partisan fight over launching the government on a speedup program of building atomic power plants moves to the House floor today.

Just how it would come out was anybody's guess, but indications were the vote would be close. Meanwhile, Republicans pushed for adoption of what they call "protective" amendments.

The fight centers around a bill passed July 13 by the Senate by a 49-40 vote over administration opposition.

The bill would direct the Atomic Energy Commission to start a $400-million-dollar program of building large atomic reactors to develop electric power for several of its own installations. No number is specified. Smaller experimental plants would be built elsewhere in this country, and the AEC would be directed to conduct a "vigorous program" of helping to develop reactors in other countries.

Republicans opposing the bill contend the "crash program" isn't necessary and would drain off skilled scientists needed in the AEC's defense work. Its purpose, they say, is to open the door for federal domination and control of atomic power.

Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the AEC also has opposed the bill, saying it would hurt rather than help the commission's present program involves the cooperation of private utilities in developing power facilities.

But the bill's backers, headed by members of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, insist that private utilities cannot afford the risk and cost involved in building atomic power reactors at this time. Utilities are opposing the bill.

Mechanic Dies After Suicide Attempt

NEW YORK (AP)—William Kulka, 40-year-old mechanic who police said touched off a powerful gas explosion in a suicide attempt last week, died today at St. John's Hospital in Queens.

The blast last Wednesday killed a 6-week-old girl, injured four other persons and reduced to rubble a two-story house in Queens in which Kulka had an apartment.

Bogus Check Widens Case—

Inquiry Resumes in Scandal Involving Orville E. Hodge

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—A grand jury inquiry into a million-dollar fund scandal involving former State Auditor Orville E. Hodge resumes today with new information about Hodge's tangled financial affairs.

The investigation broadened yesterday with the announcement by Albert E. Jenner Jr., special assistant attorney general, that an apparently forged state warrant (check) was cashed in 1953. Previously, the first questionable state warrant was believed to have been cashed in May 1955.

George Contrakon, Sangamon County State's attorney, has said he will ask the county grand jury to return 46 indictments, each carrying six counts and covering the alleged cashing of $650,000 in bogus state warrants.

Hodge, a Republican in the GOP state administration, began his elective term as auditor in January 1953. He already is charged in a federal indictment returned Saturday in Chicago on 54 counts of mishandling federally insured bank deposits.

Jenner also said that on July 5, and 6, when the reports of alleged irregularities in Hodge's office first were printed in the Chicago Daily News, Hodge made a $28,880.28 deposit in the Southmoor Bank and Trust Co., Chicago. Jenner speculated Hodge may have tried to "replenish" an account at the bank.

A number of state warrants, listing payees who said they never received payment, were cashed at the Southmoor Bank. Edward A. Hintz, resigned president of the bank, was arrested yesterday on a state charge of conspiracy. He was booked at the Sangamon County Jail and released on $25,000 bond.

Senate Passes Aid Bill

It Rejects Effort To Cut $126 Million In Economic Help; Arms Ban Expected

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate voted to grant the administration $4,110,920,000 in foreign aid appropriations today after rejecting an attempt to slash $126,600,000 in economic assistance money.

The funds in the foreign aid bill, including $2,300,000,000 in military assistance, were approved by a 57-33 roll call vote. This action came after a 54-36 vote rejecting a series of amendments by Sen. Ellender (D-La.) calling for a 10 per cent cut in President Eisenhower's requests for defense support and development assistance abroad.

Final passage of the bill, however, awaited action on other amendments.

The total money figure is what the Senate Appropriations Committee recommended.

The vote which followed the rejection of the Ellender amendments buttoned down the committee's recommendations for economic assistance. The Senate last week approved the $2,300,000,000 in military assistance funds.

The Senate defeat of Ellender's proposal for a 10 per cent cut in most of Eisenhower's itemized requests for defense supports and development assistance abroad was a major victory for the administration.

But Senate Democratic Leader Johnson of Texas predicted later adoption of an administration-opposed ban on shipment of jet fighter planes and all new arms to Yugoslavia.

The administration asks that the Senate leave the question of further shipments to Marshal Tito to the President's discretion.

City Prepares For Foreign Student Guests

The welcome mat will be rolled out for the AAUW-sponsored contingent of visitors — all of them foreign exchange students from New Zealand and Japan—who will be in Sedalia Wednesday afternoon and evening. They will be taken by the bus in which they arrive to the Philip McLaughlin home on South Grand where they will be given free ice cream from the Tullis-Hall Dairy at 4:30 p.m.

Much is in store for them from the time they arrive until they leave early Thursday morning. After a short rest from their long bus trip, the foreign students will be honored guests at the dinner in the Bothwell Hotel, which begins at 6:30 p.m.

Joe Ruddick, manager of the Fox Theatre, has invited the guests to a free movie following the dinner. Those not wanting to see the movie may either go to the place where they will spend the night or go swimming.

With the close of these activities, the visitors will spend the night in the homes of Sedalians and leave early Thursday morning for San Francisco, to be returned to their homes in New Zealand and Japan.

States Turn Back Supply of Salk Polio Vaccine

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Public Health Service announced today that 17 states have turned back part of previously allocated supplies of Salk polio vaccine.

In addition, 7 of the 17 waived their right to share in a new release today of 3,137,922 doses. The service said this enabled "states where demand is still high to receive larger amounts."

Secretary of Welfare Folsom and Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele of the health service have been urging maximum use of the vaccine as it becomes available.

However, a total of 2,431,035 doses previously allocated to them were turned back unused by the following states:

Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Indiana, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, Missouri, Nevada, Ohio, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and West Virginia.

Finishes 1956 Bomb Blasts In Pacific

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has completed its 1956 series of atomic and hydrogen bomb tests in the Pacific, but certain unspecified test activities will continue a while longer.

"The final test shot . . . has been fired," said a joint announcement yesterday by Chairman Lewis Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission and Secretary of Defense Wilson.

The announcement said the tests were "successful," and included "further development of methods of defense against attack," and advanced the "development of weapons with reduced fall-out and weapons for tactical purposes."

No information was given on the number of test shots in the series that began last May.

The announcement said that surface and air restrictions in the Bikini-Eniwetok proving ground area will be continued until the completion of further non-blast test activities.

This year's test series included an announced atomic test early in May. Then on May 21 an Air Force B52 jet bomber dropped a hydrogen bomb for an airburst witnessed by newsmen. Tests since then have not been announced.

The first claim that the United States was making "real progress" in achieving an H-bomb with "maximum effect in the immediate area of a target with minimum widespread fall-out hazard" was made last Thursday by AEC Chairman Strauss.

The announcement said no members of the joint task force that conducted this year's tests suffered any radiological injuries and that the tests were conducted "without radiological hazard" outside the announced danger area.

OBITUARIES

Dr. W. E. Pearl Dies

With the Rev. Elmer L. Hobbs, pastor of the First Methodist Church, assisted by the Rev. Dr. Warren Neal, pastor of the Broadway Presbyterian Church, officiating, funeral services were held at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday for Dr. W. E. Pearl at the Gillespie Funeral Home. Russell Maag sang "My Task," with Mrs. Del C. Heckart at the organ.

Dr. Pearl, a dentist in Sedalia for 45 years, died unexpectedly Sunday morning at his home, 241 South Prospect.

Members of the Pettis County Dental Society, Rotary Club, Masonic bodies and friends attended the rites in large numbers.

Burial was in Memorial Park Cemetery.

Mrs. Annie Dew Services
Funeral services for Mrs. Annie Dew, 1411 South Grand, one of Sedalia's oldest residents, who died at Bothwell Hospital Sunday, were held at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the McLaughlin Funeral Chapel. The Rev. Ralph Emerson Hurd, pastor of the Epworth Methodist Church, officiated.

Mrs. Ernest Leibel sang "The Old Rugged Cross," with Mrs. G. B. Carter at the organ.

Burial was in Crown Hill Cemetery.

Mrs. Anna Belle Ferguson
Mrs. Anna Belle Ferguson, 90, died at the family home in Tipton at 2 p.m. Monday unexpectedly, although she had been ill for some time.

She was born Jan. 21, 1866, in Syracuse, daughter of the late Joseph W. and Elizabeth Keener Youkey. On Nov. 19, 1884, she was married to Isaac S. Ferguson, and they observed their golden wedding anniversary in 1934. He died July 24, 1937.

She resided on a farm east of town, now known as the Earl Norman farm, for 32 years before moving into Tipton in 1938. She was a member of the First Methodist Church, Tipton, of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, the Mothers Club, and the Past President Club of the Mothers Club. She taught the Win One Sunday School class a number of years and was a member of the Good Will Class.

She is survived by: two sons, Claude M. Ferguson, president of the Tipton Farmers Bank, and Edwin L. Ferguson, Kansas City; one daughter, Mrs. Charles Walch, of Springfield, sister-in-law of Harry Walch, Sedalia; six grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by her parents, her husband and one son, Carl S. Ferguson, Aug. 1, 1945.

The body is at the Conn Funeral Home, Tipton. Funeral arrangements are set tentatively for 2 p.m. Thursday from the First Methodist Church with the pastor, the Rev. Clark Holt, officiating, assisted by the Rev. M. A. Thomas, Osage Beach, a former pastor.

Burial will be in the Tipton Masonic Cemetery.

State Licenses Are Stolen From Prison
JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Somebody is black marketing 200 state automobile license tabs that officials think were stolen inside the State Penitentiary where they were manufactured.

The fact the stolen tabs are being marketed became apparent yesterday, the State Highway Patrol reported, when a Negro motorist was picked up near Montgomery City with one of the tabs on his automobile license.

The tabs are little stick-on squares with the number "57" on them to indicate the motorist is current in his motor vehicle license payment.

David A. Bryan, supervisor of license sales, said this is what happened:

His office called the prison two weeks ago and ordered delivery of a batch of new tabs—each bears a small serial number to make counterfeiting difficult. Later, someone at the prison—either an inmate or an officer—called back to say one box had been torn open and 200 tabs were missing.

Bryan turned the investigation job over to the State Patrol but no clues were unearthed until yesterday. The motorist who was arrested said he bought the tab in a St. Louis pool hall from a Negro he knew only as "Fred."

The patrol withheld the serial numbers until the case has been solved.

Give Seven Promotions To Local CAP Members
The following promotions in CAP will be made on the ramp at the airport Thursday night during the Sedalia Squadron meeting to Capt. D. Kelly Scruton, PIO officer, Gerald D. King, personnel officer; to First Lieut. Grace E. Farley, adjutant, and Betty L. Padgett, fiscal officer; and to Second Lieutenant, Arthur H. Gents, assistant commandant of cadets; Leroy J. Shoemaker, communications officer, and V. Dale Lane, assistant operations officer.

A CAP pilot's rating will also be given to Gerald D. King.

CAP cadets meet at 7, seniors at 7:30 at the airport.

The jeep assigned to the squadron will be here by Friday.

Grants Money For Deceased Vets' Children

More than 150,000 children of deceased veterans are expected to be eligible for government grants to further their education, under a new law recently signed by the President, according to an estimate by W. F. Fidler, of the local VA Office, 208 South Lamine.

The veterans must have died of injuries or diseases resulting from their military service.

The monthly schooling payments will begin Oct. 1.

Children between 18 and 23 whose deceased parents served in World War I, World War II or the Korean conflict may apply for the educational program.

In some instances, however, children will be permitted to begin school before their 18th birthday and to finish after their 23rd.

Education may be taken in colleges and universities, as well as below college level schools. But regular high school training isn't included in the new law, and below college level courses must equip students for definite vocational objectives. On-the-job training, on-farm training and correspondence courses are not allowed.

Government allowances of $110 a month are paid to students if attending full-time; $80 for three-quarter time; and $50 for half-time training. The rate for "co-op" courses—alternating schooling and actual experience on a related job—is $90 a month.

Students will be allowed up to 36 months of training. The time will be reduced by any Korean GI Bill or Public Law 894 vocational rehabilitation training they might have received as Korean veterans.

The steps to be followed in applying for schooling are that the child's parent or guardian files an application with the VA Office, 208 South Lamine. VA will issue provisional approval if it finds the child meets the basic eligibility requirements.

VA then will arrange for educational or vocational counseling to help the parent or guardian and the child arrive at a suitable objective, and to help develop an educational program of education, the school or schools where the child plans to go, an estimate of how much the program will cost, and any other data VA might require. After this is submitted, VA may give its final approval for the training.

The new law also provides for special restorative training for children with physical or mental disabilities which would hinder pursuit of a regular program of education. This training would be in the nature of speech and voice correction, lip reading, and Braille reading and writing, one-handed typewriting, personal adjustment training and the like.

The Government allowance for the special restorative training is $110 a month, but it may be increased if not sufficient to meet the cost of fees and tuition.

Purpose of the program, as stated in the law, is to provide "opportunities for education to children whose education would otherwise be impeded or interrupted by reason of the death of a parent from a disease or injury incurred or aggravated in the Armed Forces . . . and to aid such children in attaining the educational status which they might normally have aspired to and obtained but for the death of such parent."

In broad outline, Fidler, pointed out, the children's scholarship program follows the structure of the Korean GI Bill for Korean veterans.

Warns Reconsideration Of Participation
GENEVA, Switzerland (AP)—Britain warned today that it might reconsider its participation in United Nations programs if their costs continue to rise.

Lord John Hope told the U. N. Economic and Social Council "the cumulative effect of the steady and rapid rise in the budget levels of the United Nations and the specialized agencies constitutes an excessive drain on our resources."

"In our present financial circumstances we cannot continue to tolerate it. I must therefore tell the Council quite frankly that if we are to be involved in ever increasing financial contributions, Her Majesty's government will be obliged seriously to consider whether the United Kingdom can continue to participate in the United Nations programs and in the specialized agencies on the present basis."

Economies should be made by greater efficiency and by avoiding overlapping between different United Nations agencies, Lord Hope said.

Sweden and England have a social security pact. Swedish citizens residing in England and English citizens in Sweden can now enjoy health insurance, old age pensions, etc., in either of the two countries.

DAILY RECORD

Police Reports

Charges against Deloris Richardson, 22, Smithton, were dropped by Prosecuting Attorney Harold Barick upon the request of Larry H. Reeves, Whiteman AFB, who had picked up by the police for taking an Air Force uniform. He accused her of taking a $82 gabardine uniform instead of a carbine rifle as was first reported.

Prosecuting Attorney Barick reported Reeves called him and explained he had given the uniform to her to show and did not want to prosecute. She was released.

The 1939 Chevrolet sedan of Orville Fox, 818 East Ninth, which was reported stolen Sunday night, was recovered Monday by the police at Tenth and Montauk.

Mrs. Roland Clark, Sunrise Beach, reported to the police she left her pocketbook on a table at the roadside park west of Sedalia on Highway 50 Sunday. Police made a check but it was gone.

The finder can contact the police department and it will be returned to the owner.

Mrs. Lee Roberts, 601 South Lafayette, reported to the police someone stole her little girl's tricycle from their yard Saturday night. Also stolen was a glass rod and a black Ronson reel, from their automobile.

Police had their troubles about 4 a.m. Tuesday when a pig escaped from a truck at Main and Lamine. They wrestled the pig around the corner before they were able to subdue it and take it to police headquarters.

The owner called at police headquarters later in the morning, claimed the pig, and left money for the officers to have their uniforms cleaned.

American Legion State Meeting Opens Friday
ST. JOSEPH, Mo., July 24 (AP)—Five thousand members of the American Legion and auxiliary organizations will converge on St. Joseph Friday for the annual three-day convention of the Missouri department of the veterans organization.

Garrett Crouch, Warrensburg, state commander, will call the convention to order at 9 a.m. Friday at the Electric Theater. The principal address of the convention will be given at 1:30 that afternoon by Maj. Gen. Philip Ginder, chief of the army's reserve program.

The annual parade of the convention will be staged Saturday. That evening at the City Stadium the convention drum and bugle corps contest will be conducted. The defending champions, Tom Powell Post of St. Louis, will participate in the event.

Officers for the new year will be elected Sunday at a business session. So far William Kenney, St. Joseph pharmacist and a veteran of World War II, is the only announced candidate for state commander.

The convention will be the first the Legion has held in St. Joseph since 1936. Annual meetings of the Legion Auxiliary, the Sons of the American Legion, the 8 and 40 and the 40 and 8 also will be conducted during the three-day period.

Bunker Hill Club Has Discussion on Picnic
The Bunker Hill 4-H Club met at the home of Arlene and Vern Dene Schlesselman July 20. Club members and leaders worked on getting material for the radio program.

Plans for the August picnic were discussed and plans outlined for the local Achievement Day. There were five members, ten parents and visitors present. Arlene Schlesselman gave a demonstration on how she made the headboard for her bed.

The next meeting will be at the home of Oscar Zimmerschied, Aug. 17. Vern Dene Schlesselman will give a demonstration.

Ike's Health Hangs Before Campaigning

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A weekend flood of Democratic comment on President Eisenhower's health effectively removed any remaining doubts on whether subject will be a 1956 campaign issue.

Eisenhower himself helped open the dikes with an offhand comment in Panama that "I haven't much strength but I keep going."

Reporters also heard him precede the remark with a statement that he was feeling fine.

Eisenhower made the comment during a wreath-laying ceremony at the Inter-American Presidents Conference.

Still recuperating from an operation six weeks ago, he looked chipper at the Panama meeting. Later, he appeared to tire in the sweltering heat of a long program, but seemed to stand it better than some of his fellow presidents.

Homefront reaction to Eisenhower's comment, however, was swift.

Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler used it as a springboard to speculate that Eisenhower might not be the Republican candidate this year after all.

Butler quoted Eisenhower as saying some months ago that his status as a candidate would depend on his health at the time of the GOP National Convention.

Now, Butler said, "we read . . . that although he was feeling fairly well, that he was feeling quite weak, but trying to keep going on with his duties."

Butler said the President's health will be a campaign issue and "it is already an issue in the minds of the U.S. people."

Mrs. Katie Louchheim, director of women's activities for the Democratic National Committee, said it is a legitimate campaign issue because "the people are talking about it, the press is talking about it and the President is talking about it."

Miss Bertha Adkins, her GOP counterpart, replied in a televised debate that the people have "great confidence" that Eisenhower would not be seeking another term "unless he thought he was equal to it."

In another television appearance, Sen. Magnuson (D-Wash.) said he thinks Eisenhower's health should not be a campaign issue, but "the people of my state have a legitimate right to know the state of Mr. Eisenhower's health."

Paper Boys Win Weekend Trip To Kansas City
Fifteen Democrat-Capital newspaperboys were announced Tuesday as winners of the recent newspaperboy contest which ended Saturday.

Five boys will leave Saturday morning and return Sunday evening, spending two days in Kansas City as guests of The Sedalia Democrat Company. They will stay overnight at the Hotel President, visit points of interest, and watch the Athletics—New York Yankees baseball game.

Ten boys will spend one day in Kansas City the following Sunday, Aug. 5. They will attend church, visit the zoo, and watch the Athletics—Washington Nationals baseball game.

Winners of the two-day trip include Ira Knox, David Baugher, Bruce Wells, and George Gugliemetti, all of Sedalia, and Joe Bass, LaMonte.

Leaving the following weekend will be Sedalia newspaperboys Kenny Holman, Arthur Huff, Larry Hendricks, Jimmy Watson, Billy Roe, Mike Baugher, and Gene Rayl. Out-of-town carriers going are Jerry Henry, Calhoun, Pat Dunham, Ottaville, and Raymond Crowley, Knob Noster.

Preventing Calls For Help...

Not recently, at least, have we heard any Central Missouri complaints about emergency telephone calls being held up because of busy party lines.

Of course there are those regular complaints which are caused by irritation over not being able to use a busy line when someone else has it tied up for visiting purposes.

But every now and then an emergency does arise when the wires are needed for more than petty conversation. Surprisingly enough there are cases in which a person in distress cannot convince other patrons of the communication system that there is an emergency and that they should get off the line.

Some states are passing legislation to make it an offense punishable by fine not to release a telephone line for emergency purposes.

Stubbornness and, too often, thoughtlessness can cause situations similar to this one reported from another state: A woman suffered a heart attack at 11 in the morning. A teen age granddaughter who lived with her tried to use the telephone to call for help. The party line was busy. She ran to neighbors but they were not at home. Back to the telephone. It was still busy. She asked the woman on the line if she could use the 'phone because her grandmother was sick. The woman laughed, thinking it was a small child trying to play a trick to obtain use of the telephone. The child would not leave her grandmother alone to run any distance for help. Finally the mail man arrived and discovered the grandmother dying on the dining room floor and the child crying beside her. By that time the party line gossipers had relinquished the telephone line. Members of the family were called, also doctors and an ambulance. But it was too late. She died before family or friends could be with her in her last moments.

This is a sad commentary on the behavior of party line users.

There are innumerable occasions when telephone calls for help may save a person from death, property from destruction by fire, and injured or sick from pain. When emergency needs arise the party line telephone user should at least be kind enough to ask who is in distress and try to be of some aid personally in addition to giving up the line for a few moments.

Furthermore, the person who uses the device of emergency to obtain the line by trickery makes it just that more difficult for others to be sympathetic when he or she does need the telephone in a true emergency.

Party line telephone users have no right to tie up a line for ten or fifteen minutes just to gossip. Someday they, too, may need to make an emergency call. Will they be able to get through?

Steel Negotiators Miss Ben Fairless

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — One factor handicapping the steel-strike negotiations is the absence of Ben Fairless, kindly, powerful former head of the U. S. Steel Corporation, who always dominated past wage talks.

Fairless, an orphan raised by an uncle who was a coal miner, was sympathetic to labor. And though he rose to become head of the world's largest steel company, he was largely responsible for okaying healthy wage increases to steelworkers. He and Dave McDonald, head of the United Steelworkers, were understanding friends.

During the closing days of the steel negotiations just before the strike was called, U. S. Steel still seemed more sympathetic to the union's position than other companies. But there were several roadblocks, as follows:

Roadblock No. 1 — The two companies which do most of their business with the automobile companies, Bethlehem and National Steel, were the toughest negotiators. It looked as if they wanted a strike.

This fits in with the word, passed from down inside the industry, that Ernie Breech of Ford and Harlow Curtice of General Motors were not at all averse to a steel strike which would give them an excuse for closing down, thus using up the huge car surplus on hand this year as a result of over-selling last year.

Roadblock No. 2 — With Fairless now on the sidelines, the steel moguls adopted the Boulware technique in their negotiations. This technique, developed by Lem Boulware of General Electric, is a take-it-or-leave-it approach. Industry approaches the conference table and says: "This is it, boys. This is all you're going to get. The longer you delay, the more you lose, because you won't get retroactivity."

General Electric has been able to get away with this because many of its workers are not unionized. But Westinghouse used this approach and found itself with one of the longest and bitterest strikes in recent years. It still hasn't recovered.

The steel moguls tried the Boulware technique in their recent talks — against the advice of U. S. Steel's John Stephens — and ended with a strike. The Stephens-Fairless technique has been to work up gradually to terms which seem about right for both sides.

Roadblock No. 3 — Wall Street bankers who have a hand in guiding the steel industry want a five-year contract. They want this in order to figure their tax depreciation writeoffs in financing new plants for the steel industry. Negotiations were held in New York, incidentally, to be near the bankers, who have the last word. Labor, on the other hand, doesn't want a five-year contract.

Inside fact is that the steel executives have been much tougher in their negotiations than appeared in the press. On the last night before negotiations broke off in New York, industry leaders met most of the night. Afterward they told newsmen the union was offered a 20-cent package with a three-year agreement. Actually no such offer was ever made. The industry stood pat on its five-year offer.

NOTE — During all this period, and not until after the strike was called did the federal mediation service make any overtures toward a settlement.

Ike's Ex-Naval Aide

Probably there had been no man closer to Eisenhower during the years, outside of his brother, than Harry Butcher, Ike's naval aide during the war. They got to know each other before the war when Ike was stationed in Washington and Butcher was working with the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Later, when Captain Butcher went abroad with General Eisenhower, their wives waited out the war in the same Wardman Park Hotel together. After the war, Butcher wrote a book, "My Three Years With Eisenhower."

Last week, however, Harry Butcher got the brushoff from Ike's appointees on the Federal Communications Commission in what looked like a political move. He had applied for a TV license in Hartford, Conn. Opposing him was the Travelers Insurance Co. Butcher has had vast TV-Radio experience, now operates Station KEYT in Santa Barbara, Calif. Travelers operates a radio station in Hartford.

The applications were somewhat complicated, and the FCC could well have found for Butcher, or at least given a split decision. It did not. It was unanimous 6 to 0 against Ike's old friend and naval aide.

The decision had all the earmarks of discrimination against a friend on the ground that a decision for a friend might have boomeranged in an election year.

NOTE — The FCC hung a deliberate political hooker onto its decision — but in favor of a Democrat. It reserved the right to transfer Hartford's VHF channel 3 to Providence, R. I., where Senator Pastore, Democrat, has a partner in the TV business. Pastore is a member of the Senate subcommittee which has been investigating the FCC.

Reds Fear Truth

People who have acquired the "totalitarian mind" do not ever find it easy to shake off its shackles. Thus the Russian Communists who are now trying to convince the free world of their good will constantly resort to tactics bound to have exactly the opposite effect.

Witness the recent statement of Dmitri Shepilov, the new Russian foreign minister, that the U. S. press and radio is unfriendly to the Soviet Union and these "irresponsible elements that poison the atmosphere should be muzzled."

If the Kremlin really gave a moment's rational thought to the matter, it would know that there is utterly no chance of American news outlets being silenced in any way. It would know, too, that even to suggest it would be to diminish the prospects of greater good will between us and the Russians.

Since these things ought to be obvious even to children, why does Shepilov talk this way? Because when the test is had the Soviet Communist regime, like any other totalitarian rule, cannot stand to have the truth about itself broadcast far and wide.

To any such dictatorship, facts which happen to be unpleasant are inevitably "lies and slanders," as Shepilov called the reporting of the U. S. press on the Soviet Union.

The Communists make a great to-do about allowing criticism of their activities. But actually almost all the comment they permit is concerned with details of the functioning of the Soviet state. Virtually none questions basic policy, or the understructure of the Communist system itself.

Since much has been in the news recently about intercontinental bombers, Senator Stuart Symington suggests that readers might be interested in the size of the B-52. This eight-jet plane weighs over 350,000 pounds, is 185 feet from wingtip to wingtip, 156½ feet long, and stands 48.3 feet high. Each B-52 at the current production rate costs $6 million.

Stassen's Gamble Involves Republicans

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON — When Harold E. Stassen gambled his own political future by opposing renomination of Vice President Nixon, he linked other Republicans with him.

Stassen, special assistant on disarmament to President Eisenhower, denied he was acting as "front man" for anyone in trying to keep Nixon off the ticket.

But he said in an interview at his home last night a group of "Republican leaders" — whom he wouldn't identify — had collaborated with him in using professional pollsters to test public sentiment on the vice presidency.

Stassen said he was not speaking for these "leaders" and that they would speak out and identify themselves in due time. But he said he had consulted with them before making his statement.

Now the question becomes, Who are they? And how influential are they?

The polls, Stassen said, had been made repeatedly over the past month. Among whom? Republicans, laborites and others. What questions were asked? A number about possible running mates for Eisenhower.

He said the polls showed the reelection chances of Eisenhower would be 6 per cent better with Gov. Christian A. Herter as his vice presidential running mate than with Nixon on the ticket.

There can be no doubt the statement did the Republican party no good if its convention in August picks Nixon again. Stassen, in calling for Nixon to step aside, angered many professional Republican politicians.

It may cost Stassen his job. If that happens, his political future looks dark indeed—although he said at his home he didn't think he'd be fired or pressured out. He said he has no intention of resigning.

What he did, Stassen said, was to "fulfill my duty and responsibility as I see it to the President and to our country and to our Republican party." He told Eisenhower Friday what he was going to do yesterday.

If the Nixon forces think Stassen was doing a hatchet job on him, it at least would not be the first time Stassen has actively tried to shove another man out of the running for high office.

In the 1952 primaries Stassen campaigned hard, particularly against Sen. Robert A. Taft, Ohio Republican, at a time when Taft, not Stassen, was Eisenhower's main opponent.

Before convention time Stassen said he had gone into the race to stop Taft. He said he wanted to stop that "viewpoint of semi-isolation and extreme conservatism in the Republican party from getting to the top."

At the convention he threw his support to Eisenhower and, after the election, was given a high government job as director of the mutual security program. Later Eisenhower made him his assistant on disarmament.

Although Stassen last night called Nixon a "burden" on the Republican ticket, he would not say precisely why he was so opposed to Nixon. He referred to his statement earlier in the day but that was full of generalities.

It is possible Stassen still retains some presidential ambitions—if he manages to survive this turmoil he caused among Republican politicians.

In a July 9 broadcast—while Eisenhower was still recovering from his operation and before it was announced he would run again—Stassen said that if Eisenhower didn't run he thought the Republicans could win with their Chief Justice Earl Warren or himself as head of the ticket.

Asked last night if he still felt that way — if anything now happened which caused Eisenhower to withdraw — Stassen said he would not discuss this possibility since the party was operating now on the assumption Eisenhower would run.

He was asked flatly if he would say he would not run. But he did not give a direct answer.

Norstad Has Own Formula For Respect

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — What does it take for an American general to win friends and influence people in Europe?

Ike found the secret by just being Ike. Gen. Alfred Gruenther found it by being intellectual and friendly and beating every one on the continent at bridge and tennis.

Gen. Lauris Norstad, the man who is to follow in their footsteps as commander of North American Treaty Alliance forces, has a third formula.

His secret is being reserved and relaxed. He has stolen part of the Ike-Gruenther technique by being brilliant, too.

The tall, slim, wavy-haired, 49-year-old NATO boss hardly will be stepping into a new job. He has been a top figure at NATO headquarters since July 27, 1953 when he was named deputy for air. This gives him an intimate knowledge of the large, complex problems of a united defense of Western Europe.

In this position he has spent much time in every NATO country and has gotten to know their military and defense officials. The better they've known him, the more respect they've developed for him.

Hunting, fishing and golf are Norstad's chief active diversions. Probably because of his Norwegian ancestry he loves the country.

He has a close friend in the Norwegian Air Force who owns a private plane. They hop up to one of the scores of tiny lakes above the Arctic Circle and fish and hunt together.

The General's excellent hi-fi equipment—which he built himself—and his collection of records are famous in Europe. His discs include complete works of Tchaikovsky and Beethoven, plus Dixieland records no longer on the market.

His book collection is notable, too. He's an avid reader of the

Keeping 'Em Down on The Farm Is Still Big Ag Problem

By MAURICE G. BOEHL

Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON—How're you going to keep 'em down on the farm after they've seen Parie? The Agriculture Department continues to worry about keeping 'em down on the farm as the number of workers declines on American farms. They can't place blame on the French or a decline in wages!

About 8.9 million people are working on farms. Of this total, 6.5 million were operators and unpaid members of their families and 2.4 million were hired workers. The number of family workers was four per cent less than a year earlier and the number of hired workers was three per cent less.

But happily farm wages averaged five per cent more than a year earlier for the country. Wage rate increases varied from two per cent to seven per cent with the largest jump in the New England states. Increases in industrial wages probably had the greatest effect in this area.

Wages in Missouri around July 1st, averaged $139 per month if a house was furnished and $106 per month with board and room. Daily pay scale without board or room averaged $5.50.

Major jobs throughout the country during the period covered by the survey (June 17-23) were harvesting small grains, making hay, and cultivating various crops. Small grain harvest was about over in the Southern part of the country and was starting in the southern areas of the East North Central States. Winter wheat harvest was finished in the earlier areas of Texas and well advanced in the Northern High Plains. The wheat harvest was extending to eastern Colorado, extreme southern Nebraska, northern Missouri and central portions of Illinois and Virginia.

The peach harvest was in progress in Georgia, Alabama, North and South Carolina. Strawberries were being picked in Michigan, Washington and Oregon. In California, citrus, peaches, apricots, cherries, berries, and grapes were being harvested.

Says USSR Pilots Will Not Shoot Foreign Planes

MOSCOW — The chief of staff of the Soviet air force says Russian pilots have orders not to shoot at foreign planes that cross the Soviet Union's borders casually.

But, Marshal S. I. Rudenko told Western newsmen, "if the penetrations are deliberate and persistent, their (the Soviet pilots') superiors will advise according to circumstances."

He also said the United States would be responsible for any incidents resulting from flights by American-made planes over Soviet territory.

Rudenko was asked at a reception at the Egyptian Embassy about Russia's charge that U.S. twin-engine, medium bombers from West Germany flew over Russian territory east of Poland July 4, 5 and 9. The United States has denied the charge.

Rudenko said: "They were flying at tremendous altitude. Our planes flew alongside and signaled them to land, but the American planes disregarded the signals and continued on their courses."

"They (the Soviet pilots) did not see any markings, but our fliers know U.S. planes, we know the types."

An American reporter suggested the planes could have been sold by the United States to another country. Rudenko replied: "That's your responsibility. The United States knows whom it sells its planes to and where they are."

To avoid incidents, he said, Soviet pilots have orders not to shoot until they receive instructions from their headquarters.

current writing on philosophy, government and social problems.

His golf is in the middle eighties and he manages to get in several rounds every weekend.

They say of just about every general at one time or another that he shuns publicity. This can be said with reasonable accuracy.

On innumerable occasions he has flown into Washington from Europe and timed his flights to arrive at night. He'd quietly go about his business in the Pentagon next day, and take off for Europe at night.

Norstad loathes cocktail parties and shuns receptions.

He went from West Point, class of '30, to flight school and then to the routine assignments given to pre-World War II officers. During the big struggle he helped mastermind the air war over Africa and Italy. He served in the Pentagon and then went to the Pacific to direct the planning of the strategic bombing of Japan, including the dropping of the first atomic bombs.

Norstad is the third ranking officer in the USAF and will be the first one to hold a major Allied command. He is married and has one daughter.

By Robert L. Diefenbacher, D.D.

"I can hardly wait" is the excited cry of the child who waits for some important moment or gift to arrive: A bicycle, a doll, a birthday, a party, the arrival of grandparents, or a million things create excitement of the little tot as he thrills in anticipation.

As the years roll by, disappointments dampen our excitement. Experience quells the thrill of anticipation. Past disillusionments distort our desires. Little satisfactions are dulled by the repetition of pleasures.

Many of us have become so self-centered that we overlook the multiplicity of gifts which we receive day after day. We replace the thrill of anticipation with expressions of disappointment if we do not find our satisfactions awaiting our momentary commands.

God is so good to us that we often forget to thank Him for the great satisfactions He makes possible for us. We reach the point that we assume His "mass production" answers to unprayed prayers. We express our disfavor toward God if one little thing does not turn out as we "knew" it would.

Sometimes it appears that our faith has been so overproductive that we ought to revitalize it with some new type of hope. It might be well to "become as little children" in the realm of excitement, anticipation, hope, love, faith, and prayer.

"Lord, give us this day our daily bread, and forgive us our thoughtlessness, our lack of appreciation and our taking things for granted."

Guest Editorial—

BOSTON HERALD: Horse Trading as a Fine Art. Half a century ago solid citizens matched wits in horse trades. The principles that governed the transaction were the ones that helped build our nation. The amenities were always observed.

Before getting down to business, two men leisurely discussed the weather, crop prospects, state and national politics and the abominable conditions of the roads.

A farmer was really never interested in trading, but yes, he had thought of it. Not seriously, of course. His old Jerry was still a good horse, with years of service left in him.

Still, if Farmer Jim was interested in swapping off his old Nell, perhaps, with enough in cash to boot, a man might let old Jerry go. Hate to do it, of course, for old Jerry was the best horse a man ever had. Steady, willing worker, teeth still good.

What's that? Yes, probably a trifle tender in his left rear foot, but nothing serious.

Crib chower? Only occasionally; doesn't amount to anything.

Age? Possibly 12 or 13, but still good for years of hard work.

Horse trading was an ancient and reasonably honorable art—but at least men went at it with their eyes open.

Golf Tourney Grinds All Players Now

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
CANTON, Mass. (AP)—According to golfers who play in it — and some who won't — the Professional Golfers Assn. Championship is the toughest of all major tournaments because of its length and the unceasing pressure.

Two players well fitted physically and temperamentally to withstand this grind — Jackie Burke and Ted Kroll — meet today to battle it out over 36 holes of a woody, country-type golf course for the title and the $5,000 top prize.

Burke, 33, apparently is just reaching the peak of his competitive game after a too-long apprenticeship in which he was regarded as a perennial great prospect. Kroll, 37, is a wiry, weather-beaten tournament campaigner who plays every week on the pro tour and never seems to turn a hair whether the going is good or bad.

Since play began in the PGA last Friday, Burke already has played 121 holes of golf, almost without a breathing spell. Kroll didn't have a letup either until yesterday's semifinals, when the upset king of the earlier rounds turned out to be just a "pigeon" for a real tough competitor.

Kroll, shooting relentlessly steady golf, won by a near-record 10 and 8 margin from Bill Johnston, the 31-year-old club pro from Provo, Utah, who had beaten such players as Jay Hebert, ex-champion Walter Burkemo and Henry Ransom in the 18-hole duels.

Johnston was outclassed and soon realized it.

Putting was a big factor in Burke's 37-hole victory over Ed Furgol in about as exciting a match as this 36-year-old tournament has seen.

The lame-armed Furgol, who lashes out at the ball in a jerky, vicious-looking way and achieves surprising results, moaned: "I should have beaten the man 9 and 8 or 7 and 6 if I had putted. I found the greens here hard to putt. They're not uniform."

The Blue Hill Country Club — a sort of Boston version of Tam O'Shanter — has a rolling course 6,634 yards long, with rocks and trees a little way off in the rough and some greens that were badly damaged by weather last fall and winter.

Burke played it amazingly well up to yesterday. Then he had all kinds of trouble on the early holes.

He came from 5 down at the 14th to 2 down at the 18th and then 2 up at the 28th after he had won five straight holes. The grim, crooked-armed Furgol caught him at the 35th and pulled off a couple of fine shots on the 36th to stay alive. A 12-footer on the 37th hole saved Burke.

Appendectomy Score Runs High in Family

NORTHRIDGE, Calif. (AP)—The appendectomy box score in the Loveless family stands at seven out of eight today.

Papa James Loveless, 34, a policeman who lives, fortunately, only three blocks from Northridge Hospital, became the seventh to undergo the operation last night. Five of his six daughters preceded him in the last 22 days.

Here's the score:
Daughters Kenna Sue, 10, July 2; Carol Jean, 5, July 11; Judy, 12, and Esther, 9, last Friday; Carol Mignon, 6, last Saturday night. Papa Loveless returned to the hospital Sunday, as a patient, this time.

Mama Sue Loveless had her appendix removed three years ago. The only one left with an appendix is daughter Francine. She's only 3.

Oh yes, the Loveless baby-sitter Roberta Norman, 15, had an appendectomy Sunday.

Favorites Begin Men's Invitational Tourney

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—The bulk of the favorites began qualifying rounds today in the Broadmoor Men's Invitational golf tournament.

They included three 1955 semi-finalists — Milt Hicks of Palm Springs, Calif.; Gene Zuspamm of Goodland, Kan.; and Denver and Dan Winters of Abilene, Tex.

Richard Norville of Oklahoma City shot a par 72 yesterday to lead opening day qualifiers. Jack Sargent of Topeka, Kan., and Tom Reed and Paul McMullen, both of Denver, shot 74s.

Defending champion Jim English of Topeka is not appearing in this year's tournament.

Match play starts Wednesday, with 36-hole semifinals Saturday and 36-hole finals Sunday.

State Game Agent to Hold Public Meeting

A public meeting is to be held for farmers, sportsmen and conservationists in the Assembly Room of the Courthouse at 7:30 p. m. Thursday. The meeting is being held by Chester Vermaas, agent in Pettis County for the Missouri Conservation Commission.

"The purpose of the meeting," Agent Vermaas said, "is to acquaint our local people with wildlife conditions and problems, here and statewide, and to gather their recommendations on fish and game regulations. Anyone interested in any phase of the Conservation Commission's program is urged to attend and express his views. Suggestions will be forwarded to our four-man wildlife commission for study, as they were last year."

Vermaas said similar meetings will be conducted in every county of the state in order to exchange information on wildlife conditions and obtain information on suggested regulation changes. The Conservation Commission will consider the suggestions made at these meetings at its August and September sessions.

Hank Greenberg, Joe Cronin Get Baseball Honors

COOPERSTOWN, N. Y. (AP)—"It must be a wonderful country when a boy from the Bronx and a boy from San Francisco can win such honors with a baseball bat."

Hank Greenberg stood on a platform in front of Baseball's Hall of Fame, talking to those who came to honor him and Joe Cronin as its newest members.

Both men are general managers now, Greenberg at Cleveland and Cronin at Boston, but the big crowd that stretched across main street to the post office steps came to hear them talk of their playing days. Both men obliged.

"I didn't think I would be nervous standing up here," said the 45-year-old Greenberg, who was born in New York's Bronx. "But I have the same butterflies as when I used to anticipate hitting against Lefty Grove, or Red Ruffing with the bases loaded."

"When I played in the first game at Cooperstown when the Hall of Fame was dedicated in 1939 with men like Walter Johnson, Ty Cobb and Babe Ruth being honored, I little dreamed I would be on the same platform."

When Cronin, 49, spoke, he also said this was the greatest thrill of his baseball career.

"There were a lot of heartaches along the way," said Cronin. Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick dedicated the plaques to Greenberg and Cronin.

Fights to Win For Hometown Banquet

CHICAGO, (AP)—Wimbledon Champion Shirley Fry says she "just had to" win her first National Clay Courts tennis championship yesterday to save face at a hometown banquet later this week.

Miss Fry, trailing badly in the first set, rallied to defeat Althea Gibson of New York City, 7-5, 6-1. Herb Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., also came from behind to win his second men's title with a long, drawn out 3-6, 6-3, 1-6, 6-3, 6-3 triumph over Ed Moylan of Trenton, N. J.

Miss Gibson jumped into a 5-2 lead over the St. Petersburg, Fla. girl before Miss Fry rallied to win the next five games and coast in easily in the second set.

"I thought I was beaten when she had me 5-2," Shirley said later. "Then I remembered there's a reception for me at St. Pete's Friday and I decided I couldn't go back a loser. So I just said let's fight girl."

Athletics Foil White Sox Winning Plans

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Chicago White Sox hoped to use the last-place Kansas City Athletics to cure their disastrous slump but the A's and Tom Gorman only added to their woes.

Home after a 2-9 road trip, the White Sox were tripped 3-2 last night at Chicago by some excellent relief pitching by Gorman and Bobby Shantz and timely hitting by Hector Lopez and Vic Power.

Bears, Indians May Be Silenced Quickly

AMERICAN Assn.
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Rival managers in the American Assn. can take heart. Its been proved the booming bats of league-leading Denver and runnerup Indianapolis can be silenced.

Pitcher Joe Jay worked over the Indians Monday night, handcuffing them with two hits as Wichita won, 1-0. Lefty Charlie Templeton did almost as well, choking off Denver with four safeties as St. Paul triumphed, 5-1.

A three-run homer by Don Eggert helped pace Charleston to a 9-3 victory over Louisville, and shortstop Dick Schofield's single scored the winning run in the 8th as Omaha topped Minneapolis, 9-3.

Catcher Don Leppert lined a sacrifice fly to center in the 2nd and scored Earl Hersh, who had walked, to give Wichita the run needed to down Indianapolis. Jay fanned 10. He had a no-hitter working until Roger Maris singled with one out in the 7th.

The victory was Wichita's first over Indianapolis since May 30 and snapped the Indians' win streak at eight games.

Civic Council Plans Donkey Baseball Game

The Houstonia Civic Council met Tuesday night at the high school with 13 members present. Plans were made for the donkey ball game and ice cream supper to be held Aug. 2. The proceeds from the ball game will go to fixing the ball diamond back stop and bleachers and the money from the ice cream supper to go to the council for general expenses.

A report was given on "Dr. Parkhurst Day." A check for five dollars had been received from Mrs. Elizabeth Parkhurst Sanger to be used in the council. Reports were given on the various places having been moved in town.

Gorman came in with the bases loaded and the score 3-1 in the second, got Nellie Fox on a double play and then blanked the Sox until the ninth when Shantz retired three men in order with the tying run on base.

Gorman was the winner, giving him a 6-6 record.

The A's, always better on the road this season, scored twice in the second on an error, Joe DeMaestri's single and a two-run single to right by Lopez.

The winning run came across in the third on singles by Lou Skizas, Harry Simpson and Power.

Jolly Welders, Hamms Win Softball Games

Two games were played Monday night at Housel Park in the industrial Softball League.

In the first game, Jolly Welders defeated Sealest by a score of 7 to 5 in nine innings. The Jaycees lost a close game to Hamms Beer in the second contest.

Bill Ray was the winning pitcher in the first game and chalked up two homers in his first two times at bat for the Welders.

George Thompson hit a homer in the first with one man on to lead off the close race for the Jaycees. Smith homered in the 6th for Hamms Beer to tie the score. Hamms Beer picked up one more winning run in the seventh.

The Jaycees and Hamms Beer have each lost one game. The Jaycees must win from the Moose Club in a game Wednesday night to meet in a playoff with Hamms. No games are scheduled for tonight.

Eldon Nelson of Glenrose, Okla., led the Maryland jockeys last spring with 51 winners in 73 days of racing at Pimlico, Bowie and Laurel.

NL 'Ugly Ducklings'—Redlegs Hover Near League Leaders; Braves Move Fast

By JOE REICHLER
The Associated Press

The Cincinnati Redlegs, the National League's "ugly ducklings," stubbornly continue to hover within sight of the pot o' gold despite snubs by Milwaukee and Brooklyn.

Although the Redlegs trailed front-running Milwaukee by only 2½ games after last night's 4-3 triumph over Pittsburgh, Braves officials still regard the third-place Brooklyn Dodgers as the team to beat for the pennant.

The Dodgers, in turn, have eyes only for the Braves, who lead them by six games.

As the Dodgers prepared to meet Cincinnati tonight at Ebbets Field, Dodger General Manager E. J. (Buzzie) Bavasi was quoted as saying the only team he feared was Milwaukee.

"Cincinnati has a good club but Milwaukee has more balance and finer pitching," he said. Birdie Tebbetts has handled what he's got very well. We just don't have the pitching to stop them as the other clubs do."

Johnny Klippstein (8-6), who has beaten the Dodgers three times this season, was scheduled to pitch for the Redlegs against the veteran Sal Maglie (2-3).

Only two games were scheduled yesterday, both at night, one in each league. In the American League's only encounter, the last-place Kansas City Athletics upset the White Sox in Chicago 3-2.

Cincinnati's victory last night came when Johnny Temple singled home Bob Thurman in the eighth inning with the deciding run. The triumph went to Brooks Lawrence in relief. Lawrence, who won his first 13 decisions, now owns a 14-1 record.

Elroy Face was charged with the defeat, his sixth. Thurman, who scored Cincinnati's winning with a sixth-inning home run.

Kansas City scored all its runs inside the first three innings, then held off the White Sox on strong relief pitching by Tom Gorman and Bobby Shantz. Hee Lopez drove in the A's first two runs in the second, and Vic Power singled in what proved to be the winning run in the third.

Gorman replaced starter Jack McMahon with the bases full in the second and forced Nellie Fox to hit into an inning-ending double play. He limited the Sox to three hits until the ninth when he walked Jim Delsing, who scored Chicago's second run on pinch hitter Ron Northey's double. Shantz then came in to retire the next three batters.

Jim Wilson suffered his eighth loss against 11 victories. Gorman got the victory to even his season's record at 6-6.

Little LEAGUERS

Tonight's Games
First Major League Game 6 p.m.
Little League Stadium: Adco vs. Optimists.

Two - inning exhibition game: Lions Minor B vs. Elks Minor B.
Second Major League Game: Lions vs. Sedalia Ice.

In the first game Monday night played in the National League at the Little League Stadium, the Elks lengthened their first place lead by trouncing the second place Kiwanis team to the tune of 10 to 2. "Tadpole" Self connected for the first home run of his career, while Larry Houk, big Elk catcher, clobbered his third homer of the season over the centerfield fence.

Wilkie and Holman were the battery for the Kiwanis while Butler, an Elk ace, and Houk worked for the Elks.

The second game saw Tim Morgan fan 14 as the Rotary Club team drew into a third place tie in the standings by ousting the Jaycees in a 5-1 ball game. It was Morgan all the way as the Rotary fireballer held the big Jaycee bats to three scattered hits, all to the infield.

The only Jaycee run coming on an error and a passed ball. Larry Chastain did the receiving for Rotary while Willoughby and Gravitt did the pitching for the Jaycees with "Kit" Taylor working behind the plate.

Claude Martin Gets Navy Diploma Sunday

Claude N. Martin, sonarman seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Martin, Stover, received his diploma June 22 after completing a six-month course at the Fleet Sonar School at Key West, Fla.

He has been transferred to duty aboard the destroyer USS F. Sherman.

The sonar course included basic electronics, sonar maintenance and techniques and tactics used in anti-submarine warfare.

Before entering the service in September, 1955, he graduated from Stover High School.

Clever Hostess Presents Cool Towel to Hot Guests

By EDWARD R. KENNEDY
NEA Special Correspondent
BANGKOK (NEA)—Hot weather in the States always brings forth a rash of advice on how to keep cool. Here's a tip from the tropics, where heat is a year-round problem:

Find a place in your refrigerator to store a supply of cold, damp face towels. Serve them frequently and gain a reputation as the cleverest hostess in the heat.

Small terry cloth guest towels are about the right size and would be more attractive than the long, narrow white ones used here. (For some unknown reason, the cook supplies us with white towels that say at the bottom "Good Morning '83" in English and Chinese and are decorated with a reassuring picture of two hands clasped in friendship.) Towels should be moistened, then doubled and folded as though they were napkins going into a napkin ring. They are then placed on a tray in the refrigerator.

When anyone comes in from the sticky heat, he is offered one of these chilled towels that, immediately before serving, has been sprinkled with a few drops of perfume or astringent or aftershave lotion. (We use a type made in Hong Kong that is called "Girl Brand Florida Water," but any mild lotion will do.)

The user then unfolds the towel to a double layer and spreads it first over his forehead, where the blood runs close to the skin, and gets immediate cooling relief. Then he mops off his whole face, probably his neck, and his hands, wrists and arms.

Ladies who are afraid of spoiling their makeup only dab at their faces, but thoroughly enjoy the cooling sensation on the hands and arms, and the light pleasant odor

Fashion Expert Views Marilyn Monroe Closely

LONDON (U)—A British fashion expert took a long, cold look at Marilyn Monroe today and pronounced judgment: the girl's a dowdy dresser.

The expert, a woman naturally, was Jean Soward of the News Chronicle. Miss Soward said Hollywood's most fabulous blonde has a spare tire around her midriff and ought to wear a corset.

Her skirts are too tight. She wears the wrong skirt-and-blouse combinations. She's careless about combing her hair and keeping her clothes tidy.

Miss Soward said she had "waded through oceans of print and stared at hundreds of pictures" since Marilyn arrived in England July 14 to make a movie.

"Always," she complained, "it's Marilyn through a man's eyes. And my, oh my, just how starry-eyed can a man gazing at Marilyn become? Let's have another look—this time through the less easily distracted eye of a woman."

"Marilyn left the plane at London airport in a dress which looked as though she had slept in it, with a skirt so tight she could hardly stagger across the tarmac, a crumpled coat slung over her shoulders, and tousled hair."

"The most prominent thing about her was her spare tire. Lots of us have one, but most of us dress to disguise it."

"At press conference No. 2 she exposed in a veiled sort of way the only exposable bit of a woman left unpunctured—a chiffon-covered midriff brought that spare tire into prominence again. Let's face it, Miss Monroe, Indian women have been doing this more attractively for hundreds of years."

Australia has a new aviation fuel plant which is automation in that only three men can operate this chemical industry through a central control panel. It formerly required scores of technicians.

Son of Stars Marries Childhood Sweetheart

NEW YORK (U)—Norman Scott Powell, son of film stars Joan Blondell and Dick Powell, is on a Southern honeymoon trip with his high school sweetheart.

Young Powell and Ann McDowell, a petite blonde, were married yesterday in his mothers, East Side apartment. After the ceremony, the two left by car for a two-week honeymoon at Myrtle Beach, S.C.

The bride and groom, both 21, were classmates at Irvington-on-Hudson, N.Y., high school.

Young Powell is a senior at Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y. N. Y. The couple will live there when school starts in the fall.

Powell's parents were divorced in 1945.

British Officer Examines All Bombs Tossed on Cyprus

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

NICOSIA, Cyprus (U)—They call him "The Bomb Man."

Sooner or later, Maj. William C. Harrison of the British Royal Army Ordnance Corps gets his hands on all the bombs tossed on Cyprus by Greek Cypriot extremists in their violence campaign.

When it's "sooner," it means the bomb is either a dud or has been discovered before it could explode. When it's "later," Harrison is working with fragments.

His job as head of a flying squad of explosive experts is to get to the scene in a hurry, find out all that can be learned about the bomb, relay the information to civil police and in case of arrests, give expert testimony in court.

If a bomb is found unexploded, his first task is to render the missile safe, then examine it for fingerprints and other data.

Since the Cypriot extremists in the EOKA underground organization launched their campaign in April 1955, Harrison and his four-man team of noncommissioned officers have dealt with 1,600 lethal devices.

These range from the early type Molotov cocktail—bottle filled with gasoline—to the more recent time bombs, fragmentation grenades and land mines.

Harrison and his team, all merchants, plus a driver, are on call around the clock. The four sergeants are expert explosive examiners.

Harrison, a wiry, weatherbeaten man of medium build, has been in the Ordnance Corps since 1934. He is 45, married and has two sons, one 15 and the other 7 years old. The Harrisons have a home near Stratford-on-Avon.

Harrison's first experience with terrorist bombs was gained in Malaya in 1945. He arrived in Cyprus in January, 1955, and on April 1 the EOKA underground opened its campaign. On that day, some 200 bombs were planted or thrown, although 81 did not go off.

Harrison believes EOKA techniques in bomb-making are still poor.

One major incident he investigated was the attempt last March to blow up a transport plane at Nicosia airport. Three time bombs had been planted in the plane. Twenty minutes before the passengers—68 British service personnel, their wives and children—were to have boarded the plane, it burst into flames in the pantry section. Two bombs were found later in the wings.

During lulls in extremist activity, Harrison visits army units with his collection of exhibits and shows troops what to look for.

Announces Other Ku Klux Klan Meetings

LAKELAND, Fla. (U)—Ku Klux Klansmen who started a membership drive in Florida with a statewide rally and cross burning here Saturday night have announced another meeting will be held at Jacksonville July 28.

Hooded klansmen gathered in a pasture and lit the fiery cross. While it blazed, three speakers appealed to new members to help prevent integration in the public schools, fight communism and uphold Americanism.

Leaders of the group said they distributed 3,000 membership applications to non-Klan spectators who lined up behind a roped off area to watch the ceremonies.

Four miles away, a Negro Baptist congregation prayed that "the Holy Ghost" would "visit the Klan . . ."

The Rev. O. L. Williams, pastor of St. Luke's Free Will Baptist Church, led the prayer meeting.

Priest Defies Predictions Of Friends

By BOB THOMAS

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (U)—Twenty-three years ago, a young Irish priest just out of seminary in New York, told a friend he had chosen Nevada as the place to start his career.

"Nevada!" the friend exclaimed. "Why in heaven's name would you go there? Why, there's nothing but a few houses next to the highway. Your church will look like a mission in China."

Nevertheless, Father John Ryan went west. After being stationed in most of the sizable towns in the state, he is now pastor of St. Anne's, the closest church to the great show capital, the Las Vegas strip.

On a recent Sunday, Father Ryan could look down at mass and see such famous faces as Jimmy Durante, Danny Thomas, Dennis Day and Teresa Brewer, stars, chorus girls, pit men, croupiers and plain citizens fill St. Anne's. The congregations are so sizable that six masses are held.

Father Ryan, a big, broad-shouldered man with a tanned Irish face and a touch of brogue, came to Las Vegas four years ago to find St. Anne's out in the desert without even a road before it. Now there is a road, a thriving church, a grammar and high school.

His latest enthusiasm is a youth center to provide healthful recreation for children of all sects. Last weekend the town pitched in for a gala barbecue, auction and entertainment to pay off the $30,000 debt on the center.

Las Vegas is always proclaim-

Cederberg Takes Note Of Congress' Closing

WASHINGTON (U)—Rep. Cederberg (R-Mich) took note of the "hectic closing days of Congress" today with a pair of presents to the House press galleries.

Cederberg issued a press release saying, "I have no personal plans for long winded speeches or verbose press releases that might contribute to cranial distress" among the newsmen. He added:

"If our oratory or parliamentary maneuvering should cause you to want to take a powder, take a pastel aspirin instead."

Attached to Cederberg's written statement was a vial of pastel-colored aspirins made by a company in his home district.

Senate Completes Unanimous Reaction

WASHINGTON (U)—The Senate completed unanimous congressional action yesterday on a resolution declaring the "unaltered opposition" of Congress to admitting Red China to the United Nations. Congress has adopted similar resolutions every year since 1951. The 86-0 Senate vote followed a 391-0 House vote July 18.

ing that it has "heart," and such events would support that claim. "You won't find more generous people anywhere than those in Las Vegas," agreed Father Ryan. But, of course, all is not sweetness and light here. The priest admitted that there are problems.

"This is the place of fun in the sun," he remarked. "People are here for pleasure, and the climate contributes to a lax attitude. Certainly all the temptations are here. With some people, it is a question of getting to them before the temptations become too great."

Acquisition Of Magazines Is Violation

By KARL R. BAUMAN

WASHINGTON (U)—The Federal Trade Commission ruled today that acquisition by Farm Journal, Inc., of its principal rival, Country Gentleman-Better Farming, violated the antimerger law.

But the commission said there is little it can do about the matter now. It quoted the hearing examiner whose report it adopted as saying that "from a practical standpoint" the only action it could take "will accomplish nothing."

The Farm Journal acquired Country Gentleman-Better Farming, a Curtis publication, in June 1955. The combined Farm Journal-Country Gentleman is published in Philadelphia.

The FTC ordered the Farm Journal to divest itself of the names "Better Farming" and "Country Gentleman" of the domestic subscription list of the acquired magazine, and the list of Country Gentleman advertisers.

The commission gave the Farm Journal until next Jan. 1 to file a report of compliance with the order.

Those were the recommendations of examiner Frank Hier. He complained that what he called the "inadequacy and ineffectiveness" of the antimerger law, a section of the Clayton Antitrust Act, prevented more effective action. Hier said the order he proposed "at most may only disturb, but will not diffuse the coalescence which has taken place."

By the Jan. 1 date, Farm Journal, Inc., will have had the advertising and subscription lists of the magazine it bought for a year and a half. By that time it presumably will have obtained all the subscribers and advertisers it can effectively hope to gain from them.

Young Girl Seriously Wounded in Gunfire

CHICAGO (U)—A 7-year-old girl was shot and seriously wounded last night when she walked into a neighbors home where a couple reportedly were quarreling.

Sheriff's police said Warthen L. K. Hobbs, 51, admitted he fired the shot from his .45-caliber automatic pistol which struck Joan Marie Wood as she entered the Hobbs' front door in their suburban Northfield home. She was reported in critical condition.

Police said Hobbs was charged with assault with intent to commit murder and was held in jail in $25,000 bond, pending arraignment in court Aug. 4.

Sheriff's Capt. John Roche said Hobbs related that during a quarrel with his wife Helen, 53, she threatened to kill him. Roche said Hobbs told him he took his pistol from a drawer, loaded it and told her to shoot him. He said he fired a shot from the gun to show her it worked. The bullet struck the neighbor girl in the abdomen.

Mrs. Hobbs was charged with disorderly conduct and released on $200 bond.

Senators Plan Foreign Aid Spending Now

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators preparing to vote on how much the United States should spend this year on foreign economic aid are pondering a report that Russia's economic offensive now is worldwide.

A Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee last night issued a staff report and Chairman Mansfield (D-Mont.) said it shows that "Soviet economic and cultural representatives are swarming over the globe." The report said that in the past 13 months, the Russian economic aid program has spread beyond a few countries in Asia until it now may be bigger than this country's.

The subcommittee staff mentioned unconfirmed reports that Russia has made more than one billion dollars in economic and technical aid offers to free countries.

Tomorrow, the Senate, which has completed the military aid sections of the foreign aid money bill, is due to turn to the economic assistance provisions before taking a final vote on the overall measure, now totaling about $4,110,000,000. This is about 685 millions more than the House voted.

Sen. Ellender (D-La.) has announced he will seek to reduce by 10 per cent the $1,468,200,000 the bill contains for defense support and other economic aid. Last Friday, Ellender made several unsuccessful efforts to trim the military aid total in the Senate bill below $2,300,000,000.

Also looming tomorrow is a Senate fight over proposals to cut off all new military aid to Yugoslavia because Marshal Tito recently has been nudging closer to Moscow.

Meanwhile, an apparent reluctance by Russia to help Egypt build the $1,300,000,000 Aswan dam in the Nile River came as a relief to some State Department officials. They had feared the Soviets would try to capitalize on withdrawal last week of an American-British-World Bank offer to put up 400 million dollars toward construction of the dam.

What gave these U.S. diplomatic officials a lift was a statement by Russian Foreign Minister Dimitri Shepilov over the weekend that Russia has no present intention of helping finance the Egyptian project. Shepilov said Russia is interested more in fostering Egypt's industrialization.

This country withdrew its offer last week chiefly because officials felt Egypt had tied up its economic resources for years to come to buy arms from the Communist bloc.

Mississippi Correction House Gets Television

PARCHMAN, Miss. (AP)—Television is coming to Mississippi penitentiary inmates on the same time payment basis the free world knows so well.

A furniture dealer was warned he was taking his own chances in regarding the prisoners—some serving time for society's worst crimes—as good credit risks.

Supt. Bill Harpole approved a prisoner request for permission to buy and install TV receivers in each barracks of the 18 camps scattered throughout the 18,000-acre penal farm.

Harpole warned the dealer, City Furniture Co. in nearby Drew, that neither the state, the prison nor any state official would be responsible for the monthly payments.

So far, six receivers have been installed. Two are in white male camps, one in a camp for disabled prisoners, and four in a camp where some of the prison's toughest convicts are housed.

The prisoners, most of whom receive money from relatives or from the sale of souvenirs, pooled their resources and made the down payments.

Traffic Records Low; Compares Less Than Last Year's Records

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—July is stacking up as the first month of the year to produce a better traffic fatality record than last year.

The Highway Patrol reported today 17 persons died on Missouri streets and highways last week, bringing the total for the month to 56. In the same week a year ago, 21 were killed to make the month's toll 68.

But the total for the year is still higher than in 1955. So far 567 have died in traffic crashes, 78 more than at the same time a year ago.

St. Louis Reports 5 New Polio Cases

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Five new cases of polio, three of the paralytic type, were reported today by the St. Louis-St. Louis County chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

None of the five had been inoculated with the Salk vaccine. This brought the total for the area this year to 35, as compared with 16 for the same period last year.

Auto Collision Kills Three Illinois People

GRANITE CITY, Ill. (AP)—Three residents of nearby Venice, Ill., were killed last night in the collision of their car and another auto on Illinois Highway 67A a mile north of U. S. 40.

The victims, all Negroes, were Levern Brown, 36, Frank Miller, 66, and Mrs. Geneva Johnson, 40.

The American buffalo is actually a bison.

Ships Collide Near New York City Monday

NEW YORK (AP)—Two ships collided in a dense fog in the Atlantic south of Ambrose Lightship early today. A passenger and a crewman were injured and both vessels were damaged but stayed afloat.

A Coast Guard boat brought seven passengers and 32 crew members of the combination passenger-cargo ship Fairisle ashore. The two injured were taken to the U. S. Public Health Service hospital at Stapleton, Staten Island.

The Fairisle, with her engine room flooded and a 10-degree list to starboard, came on into the harbor. Twelve of her crew remained aboard.

The other damaged ship, the San Jose II, anchored off Ambrose Lightship for the time being.

Three Escape County Jail; Still at Large

HUNTSVILLE, Mo. (AP)—Three prisoners escaped from the Randolph County jail Saturday night and still were at large today.

Occupying one cell block alone on the first floor of the jail were Donald Odra Pair, 30, Oklahoma City, and Olan Ronimus, 32, and his brother, Raymond, 21, both of Moberly. They pried loose a cell bar and used it to trip the locking lever on the cell door.

Officers believed they might have furthered their escape by stealing a pickup truck near Moberly.

Pair was awaiting trial on a bogus check charge. The other two were awaiting trial on robbery charges growing out of a holdup at a party given by their uncle, Charley Ronimus.
